A 30-60-90-120 day plan can be helpful to develop and align your business strategy and planning.

The 4×4 table shows 30, 60, 90, and 120 days columns. The rows allow you to present action plans for four business segments, projects, or departments. This semi-annual goals planning template assists in aligning strategies of four parts on a single layout.

The concept of a 30-60-90-120 day plan enables you to track key goals like performance or sales in terms of days. The milestones with a 30-day gap enable a team to map out main goals and deliverables.

You can then elaborate subprocesses or activities within 30 day window. In project planning, for example, 30-60-90-120 day plan can give a high-level plan that further breaks down into actions. In this way, you can combine the properties of effective roadmap into 30 day action plan.
